What is it?

The SIPES Discovery Room is back! This exciting forum is for the exchange of exploration concepts and ideas. It is a place for SIPES Members to showcase, share, and discuss active projects. Whether you are selling a deal, looking for a deal, looking for guidance, or simply want to brag about a cool project already on the books, this room is where you should go. It is a forum for working explorers to share best practices, experiences, knowledge, and hopefully help open doors, get some business done, and find some oil and natural gas! Every Discovery Room presenter will be a SIPES Member and every attendee will be a registered Convention attendee. This is a SIPES event, for SIPES Members and SIPES Convention attendees.

What is it not?

The SIPES Discovery Room is not a technical forum; there are no technical talks (though I think we all agree prospect pitches are perhaps some of the very best technical talks). It is not a “prospect expo” either, though we anticipate plenty of business to occur. We strongly encourage you to check out the Discovery Room, which will be open on Wednesday from 10:00 a.m. to 12 p.m. during the Convention, and exhibitors will be present in the room, principally occupying the table area.
(The SIPES Discovery Room and reserved hours are subject to change.)

Building on Successes and Failures — The Life of an Independent

by Patrick A. Nye, #3105
NYE Exploration & Production, LLC
Corpus Christi, Texas

My grandfather was an attorney, poet and philosopher. One of his most memorable quotes was that “Opportunity comes to those who are trained to receive it!” (J. Sidney Nye). How true this statement resonated during my life as an independent oilman especially when you consider how many different hats we wear! Having been blessed by being involved in over 200 wells during my career, there are highs and lows that only the wife of an independent could accurately describe. I will always remember my first well — a dry hole, located between a well-mapped field and a downdip show well — but the last three wells we drilled appear to be successes. Learning from each event leads to probabilities of successful outcomes in the future. However, sometimes it takes significant events — life-changing events that change one’s course to navigate in new directions.

Career Highlights –

(1) Eagle Ford, Austin Chalk, Wilcox, Yegua, Hockley, Vicksburg, Frio, and Miocene.
(2) Peñascal Wind Farm – South Texas and Tres Mesas Wind Farm, Tamaulipas, Mexico.
(3) Catching all nine billfish species.

Patrick Nye has more than thirty-five years of experience in oil and gas exploration and development, and more than fifteen years in the renewable energy business. He formed Nye Exploration & Production and Nye Renewables where he continues to prospect and invest in both businesses.

Patrick holds a Bachelor’s degree in zoology with a minor in chemistry from Texas Tech University where he played collegiate tennis. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in geology from Texas A&M Kingsville. Patrick has served as chairman on numerous committees with the Corpus Christi Geological Society, CCGS Scholarship Committee, and on boards with local log libraries. He is a member of AAPG, South Texas Geological Society, and Coastal Bend Geophysical Society, and is certified by the Board of Professional Geoscientists. Patrick is a past chairman of the SIPES Corpus Christi Chapter; he has also served as SIPES Foundation President and as a SIPES National Director. Currently, he is serving as SIPES National President. Patrick was chairman for the SIPES National Convention held in Vail in 2017.

Patrick is a native of Corpus Christi residing across the waters in Ingleside on the Bay with his wife Julie. Their sons, Austin (Geologist) and Colin (Operations Manager), both reside in Corpus Christi as part of the team at Nye Exploration & Production. They have a natural foursome for golf and all love to fish, especially offshore.

The SIPES All-Convention Luncheon is included in the full convention registration fee. Registered spouses or guests who want to attend can purchase an individual ticket for the event if space is available.

Ethics Course
Wednesday, June 13 — 1:30-2:30 p.m.
Aspects of Geoscience-related Ethics Codes
by David M. Abbott, Jr.
Consulting Geologist — Denver, Colorado

This talk examines several issues in geoscience-related ethics including: continuing professional development — encouraged or required; public protection versus confidentiality; ethical, but upsetting research; a look at the problems with models; and whistleblowing — when, how, and consequences; the protection of geodiversity; failure to respect others’ opinions; and aspects of switching jobs.

David Abbott holds an A.B. in earth sciences from Dartmouth College, and an M.S. in geology from the Colorado School of Mines. Mr. Abbott has authored over 50 papers on geoscience ethics since 1989.

He was a geologist with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission from 1975-1996, and investigated mining and oil and gas fraud among other duties. He has been a consultant since 1996, specializing in the due diligence review of reserve and resource estimates, in the review of disclosures about natural resources disclosures, and the review of mineral exploration and development programs for precious and base metals, and industrial minerals.

In addition, he has the following qualifications:
• American Institute of Professional Geologists Ethics Committee Chairman Emeritus since 2017 following over 20 years as Chairman.
• Compiler of The Professional Ethics & Practices column in AIPG’s The Professional Geologist since 1995; 166 columns published so far.
• American Association of Petroleum Geologists Distinguished Lecturer for Ethics 2018-19.
• Member Australasian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy’s Ethics Committee.
• Honorary Member of AIPG and Certified Professional Geologist, No. 4570.
• Fellow of AusIMM, GSA, GSL, SEcG.
• Member of AAPG, MMSA, SME.

There is no fee to attend this talk; it is presented to help meeting attendees meet ethics course requirements. Certificates of completion will be available at the registration desk for attendees who pre-registered for and attended the talk.

Come to the SIPES Awards Banquet for a fun-filled evening with new colleagues and old friends! A cash bar will be available at 6:30 p.m., followed by a delicious dinner at about 7:15 p.m.

Hampton Sides will present a narrative weaving the adventures of Kit Carson, the U.S. Army, and the Santa Fe Trail into the saga of settling the southwest. Every person (or couple) attending the dinner will receive one pre-signed copy of the book!

An Epic Life, an Epic Landscape

Love him or hate him, New Mexico frontiersman Kit Carson lived an outsized life as a mountain man, scout, explorer, Indian agent, and soldier. His eventful career provides a fascinating lens for understanding the rich history of the Southwest. In this multimedia talk, historian Hampton Sides, author of the bestselling history Blood and Thunder, uses Carson as the jumping off point for a spirited and wide-ranging discussion of New Mexico and the American Southwest.

Narrative historian Hampton Sides is the New York Times bestselling author of many books, including the critically acclaimed Blood and Thunder, which chronicles the controversial life and times of the legendary frontiersman, Kit Carson, and his role in the “winning” of the American West and the conquest of the Navajo Nation. Hampton lives in Santa Fe, New Mexico, where he is editor-at-large at Outside magazine. He frequently writes for Smithsonian, National Geographic, and other publications and teaches narrative non-fiction at Colorado College.

Awards Ceremony

There will also be an awards ceremony to recognize retiring national directors. The SIPES Outstanding Service Award will be presented to Arthur J. Pansze, Jr., #734, of Arvada, Colorado, who will be honored for his many years of service to both SIPES and the SIPES Foundation.

Winning tickets for the SIPES Foundation’s No Hassle Raffle will be drawn. You do not need to be present to win.

Astronomy Adventures Tour
8:00-11:00 p.m. $105 per person

There is a wonderful natural resource in New Mexico — dark skies that allow us to see a greater density of stars than in many other states. Getting a peek at our increasingly rare dark skies can help make your trip to New Mexico as enchanting and memorable as possible. For 17 years, astronomer Peter Lipscomb's friendly, low-key presentations and textbook knowledge of the natural sky has been bringing the universe to life for visitors.

Astronomy Adventures tours highlight objects that are most favorably placed depending upon the time of year. A large Newtonian reflector telescope is used with a mirror that is 20 inches (0.51 meter) in diameter! Taller than most people when pointed straight up, it can show a great amount of detail on planets and the moon, as well as star clusters, nebulae and galaxies many light years distant.

A short bus ride from Santa Fe to the safe and secure dark site will get you acquainted with some of nature's most distant and beautiful creations. There will be light snacks and a few bottles of wine available. Space is limited. Please see http://www.astronomyadventures.com/ for more information.

Restaurant Walking Tour
2:00-5:00 p.m. $155 per person

The tour begins at the Santa Fe School of Cooking and includes a guided tour of four of Santa Fe's most prestigious dining destinations. Each stop will include a private tasting, and audience with the chef and owner.

Santa Fe Botanical Garden Tour
9:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m. $40 per person

We will ride the Santa Fe Free Shuttle located at the Santa Fe Visitor Center’s Transfer Station. It runs every thirty minutes and is located approximately three blocks south of the La Fonda.

While at the Botanical Garden, The Museum Hill Cafe is quite good for lunch, and those not attending the Santa Fe School of Cooking Walking Tour in the afternoon can stay here, tour and enjoy the various impressive museums and take one of the shuttles back to the Plaza.

Historic Downtown Walking Tour
2:00-5:00 p.m. $40 per person

Experience the rich history, culture and buildings while walking through the downtown/plaza area of Santa Fe with a knowledgeable representative from the New Mexico History Museum.

The Geologic Story of the Jemez Mountains

Led by Kirt Kempter — New Mexico STATEMAP Program

Email: kempter@newmexico.com  •  http://newmexicooutdoor.com/Kirt_Kempter.html

We think this topic will have wide appeal to both the technical audience and anyone interested in the geologic forces that shaped the landscape of northern New Mexico.

Dr. Kirt Kempter will discuss the volcanic history of the Jemez Mountains over the past 16 million years, culminating in major caldera-forming eruptions at 1.6 and 1.25 Ma (mega-annum or million years). During the physical growth of the mountain range, the focus and composition of magmatism varied, ranging from basaltic to high-silica rhyolite, with corresponding diverse eruption styles and deposits. The Bearhead volcanic phase, erupted mostly between 7 to 6 Ma, spanned a broad north-south axis with numerous eruptive centers that produced explosive pyroclastic flows and high-silica lavas. Two of these eruptive centers produced the volcanic deposits at Kasha Katuwe Tent Rocks National Monument. The Tschicoma volcanic phase succeeded the Bearhead phase, forming all of the major peaks in the eastern Jemez Mountains, including Cerro Grande, Pajarito, Tschicoma, and Cerro Pelón. These mountains formed between 5 to 3 Ma and largely represent volcanic domes that erupted viscous, silica-rich lavas, with only minor explosive deposits. Prior to the caldera-forming eruptions in the central Jemez Mountains there were eruptions of basalt and rhyolite in the northern Jemez Mountains, along with the formation of the Cerros del Rio volcanic field southeast of the Jemez. After the formation of the Valles Caldera at 1.25 Ma and the emplacement of the Upper Bandelier Tuff, volcanism has been confined to the caldera, including the formation of numerous ring-fracture volcanoes. The last of these caldera-related eruptions occurred at the south end of Redondo Peak ~40,000 ybp and produced the El Cajete series of volcanic deposits, including the El Cajete tephra, the Battleship Rock tuff, and the Banco Bonito obsidian flow.

Dr. Kirt Kempter is a Fulbright Fellow and Ph.D. graduate from the University of Texas at Austin, and he lives in Santa Fe. A volcanologist and field geologist, Kirt has conducted extensive field research on volcanic provinces in Costa Rica, Mexico, and New Mexico. Kirt has also worked with the NASA astronaut training program, providing field geologic training to astronaut candidates in New Mexico. Since 1993 Kirt has led numerous educational tours for Smithsonian journeys and National Geographic expeditions, from Antarctica to Iceland, acquiring a broad perspective on global geology that he conveys through teaching.

Tour includes round-trip bus transportation, boxed lunch, a guidebook, bottled water, taxes and gratuities.

DOWNTOWN AREA

L’Olivier (The Olive Tree) 229 Galisteo St. 989-1919

This restaurant is billed as fine Southwestern-French cuisine. Chef Xavier Grenet trained at L’Ecole Francaise in Paris and in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Chez Mammou 217 East Palace

Open, light, small. Light bistro fare. Wonderful homemade breads and pastries. A great lunch spot!

Restaurant Martin 526 Galisteo St. 820-0919

(Just off S. Peralta down from the Capital.) You may want to drive… Great food! Restaurant Martin is high-end nouveau American with a twist. Reservations recommended for dinner.

Santa Fe Bite 311 Old Santa Fe Trail

(In Garrett’s Desert Inn.) Formerly known as The Bobcat Bite, off the Old Las Vegas Hwy. One of the better green chile cheesburgers around. But be warned…they are BIG! The ‘Bite’ should not be missed.

La Boca 72 W. Marcy St. 982-3433

Lunch and dinner daily. Brunch Saturday and Sunday. La Boca is a tapas restaurant with a concerted focus on Spanish cuisines. La Boca’s wine list is informed and thoughtful, designed to pair with lunchtime sandwiches Reservations recommended.

Taberna La Boca 125 Lincoln Ave. #117 983-2425

This is the sister restaurant to La Boca. Laid back, casual. Good place for a glass of vino. Excellent tapas. Quick and easy to manage when downtown.

Café Pasqual’s 121 Don Gaspar Ave. 983-9340

Cozy, organic and thoroughly local. It’s a favorite haunt of nearly every Texan who comes to town. The food is eclectic with a Latin flair. Breakfast is a standout! Be prepared to stand in line and wait as this is a popular tourist destination.

Santacafé 231 Washington Ave. 984-1788

(About two blocks north of the plaza.) Fine American and Southwestern dining located in an old adobe that has a reputation for the possible glimpse of the famous and infamous. A trip to the restrooms and you will walk over the old original well. The food and atmosphere are both great.

Ostería D’ Assisi 58 S. Federal Place 986-5858

(Across the street from Santa Café.) 100% authentic Italian cuisine. Nice atmosphere, excellent wine choices. Easy to get to and the food has always been fantastic.

Dinner for Two 106 N Guadalupe St. 820-2075

Fine dining in a cozy, welcoming atmosphere serving fresh local produce.

Plaza Café

54 Lincoln Ave.

982-1664

American and Northern New Mexican cuisine, milkshakes and pie. Great food offered in a “diner” atmosphere. The Plaza has been here for as long as I can remember.

Il Piatto 95 W Marcy St. 984-1091

Fresh, local ingredients used in this Italian restaurant. Great for lunch or dinner. Wonderful wine selection.

The Shed 1131/2 E. Palace Ave. 982-9030

Delicious and cozy in a wonderful old adobe. Typical New Mexican offerings. Popular tourist destination so be prepared for a wait.

Vanaigrette 434 W San Francisco St. 982-9966

All the elements of a romantic meal. The renowned Doug Montgomery sets the mood at the piano bar. A wonderful talent in Santa Fe’s only cabaret-like restaurant.

MIDTOWN

Sweetwater Harvest Kitchen 1512 Pacheco St. 795-7383

Zen-like atmosphere, industrial chic. Organic everything. Wine by the glass straight from the cask. Try the shrimp and grits.

Vinaigrette 709 Don Cubero Alley 820-9205

(Kind of mid-town, but closer to downtown and off of Cerillos near Peralta. Tight parking!) Known for its salads and sandwiches. Delicious offerings typically sourced from their own produce. Casual and rustic décor. Great lunch spot. The back patio in the summer is delightful. Try my fave - Ruben and a cup of mushroom stew.

Chocolate Maven 821 W. San Mateo Rd. 984-1980

Located inside a warehouse on San Mateo Rd, it started out as a bakery and evolved into a casual dining place. Breads are great. Carrot cake and German chocolate cake are amazing. Lunch items include the BLT and ham and Brie sandwich.

Mid Town Bistro 901 W. San Mateo 820-3121

A favorite local destination perched behind a rock garden, and not easy to see from the street, but worth the visit. The service and offerings are excellent. If available, try the fish and chips.
This restaurant is a quaint, northern New Mexico spot in El Rito. It's off the main roads — but it has fantastic green chile enchiladas!

Jambo Café 2010 Cerrillos Rd. 473-1269

(Don't let the location in a shopping center turn you away! This is very good food - one of my favorites.) African, Moroccan, Asian fusion food with unbelievable flavors. The Kenyan Kabobs or the Jerked Chicken Pita are fantastic! Save room for the homemade coconut–banana cream pie.

Maria’s New Mexican Kitchen 555 W. Cordova Rd. 983-7929

There’s a reason Margarita and Maria share a few letters. The endless margarita menu. Probably as close to Tex-Mex food as you can find in Santa Fe, and yes, great margaritas!

Clafoutis 333 W. Cordova Rd. 989-1809

Homemade French country style offerings, along with on-site made breads and pastries — very good.

CANYON ROAD

Geronimo 724 Canyon Rd. 982-1500

Located in the “Barrego House” built in 1756, this is a favorite for fine dining. Their eclectic menu is unique and excellent. Voted one of the top 100 restaurants in the U.S. by Open Table. Dinner only — make reservations. Valet parking is available.

The Compound 653 Canyon Rd. 982-4353

History and elegance make for fine dining. Yet another fine dining destination located on Canyon Road. Wonderful atmosphere paired with excellent lunch and dinner offerings.

El Farol 808 Canyon Rd. 983-9912

El Farol has recently been renovated and is known for its offerings of Spanish Tapas and wines.

The Teahouse 821 Canyon Rd. 992-0972

There’s tea galore, coffee and a full menu of food. Great for lunch or a pleasant mid-day glass of wine.

PERENNIAL LOCAL FAVORITES

Harry’s Roadhouse 96 Old Las Vegas Hwy. 989-4629

Adults love it, kids love it. It’s classic American goodness, after all it gives us an excuse to drive down Old Las Vegas.

Tune-Up Café 1113 Hickox St. 983-7660

Breakfast, lunch and dinner daily. A Salvadoran twist to the Latino offerings. For lunch, try one of their specials or order from the menu. Grab a table then go stand in line and order. Try the chicken enchiladas Suizas. (We go here way too much...)

La Choza 905 Alarid St. 982-0909

Margaritas and New Mexico cuisine as they were meant to be. Famous homemade red chile.

Counter Culture 930 Baca St. 995-1105

(Just off of Cerrillos.) Every culture needs a counter culture. The soup and sandwich for lunch is a fave. Try the turkey sandwich with a bowl of clam chowder. Cash ONLY, no credit cards.

Horsemans’ Haven 4354 Cerrillos Rd. 471-5420

A haven for lovers of affordable New Mexican cuisine. If you like chile, they supply it aplenty here and it is good, but HOT!

The Pantry Restaurant 1820 Cerrillos Rd. 986-0022

Real New Mexican food. Established in 1948, popular lunch destination with locals. Be prepared for a wait.

TESUQUE

A short 10-15 minute drive north from the Plaza down Bishops Lodge Road will take you through the beautiful Tesuque Valley.

Tesuque Village Market 138 Tesuque Village Rd. 988-8848

Located in the village of Tesuque. A unique local eatery for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Try the fish tacos.

El Nido 1577 Bishops Lodge Rd. 954-1277

Fantastic restaurant — primarily a dinner destination. Local produce served in Italian cuisine offerings. Reservations strongly suggested.

LAS CAMPANAS

Arroyo Vino 218 Camino La Tierra 983-2100

This Santa Fe New American bistro and wine shop offers elegantly plated dishes highlighting produce grown from a backyard garden, and hosts special multicourse dinners with wine pairings. You will have to drive. Give yourself 15 minutes from downtown and map it with your Google maps. Definitely get reservations. This may be my new favorite restaurant. Rated as one of the top 100 restaurants in U.S. by Open Table.
